THIS Sevenoaks woman has ignored the current economic doom and gloom and launched a new company – Moveover Makeover (MOMo) – which offers beauty treatments when and where you need them.

Company boss Katherine Burr said: “We aim to offer a better approach to personal beauty treatments and corporate gift giving in London and the South East.”

Katherine worked in advertising in London before retraining as a beautician. She has worked in salons in both Sevenoaks and London.

She said: “I offer real flexibility as I can come to a client’s home or their place of work or customers can come to my home.

“Some people prefer to have treatments done in the privacy and comfort of their own home and, if they are having their nails manicured, for example, then it makes practical sense – as they can sit quietly and let them dry first, rather than having to get in the car and drive home.”

Katherine has been working closely with a number of corporate clients.

When she has a large number of people to treat on site, a pamper party in a client’s home or, perhaps, a charity coffee morning – such as a recent event she attended for Macmillan Cancer Support, then she has other beauticians she can call on to help her out.

Local businesses

“While I am more than happy to travel to London, I’d love to work with some local businesses as well,” said Katherine.

“Treatments that I typically offer corporate clients – for office parties or events – include on-site massage, mini-manicures and mini-facials.”

Katherine recently worked with Elle magazine and Suzie Lockwood from the publication said: “The service was fantastic, the treatments luxurious and the staff highly attentive and professional. Everyone had a fabulous time and left feeling perfectly pampered.”

Personal treatments – in a client’s own home or Katherine’s – include facials, massage, manicures and pedicures, tans, waxing and various packages.

Katherine also offers mini-manicures or mini-pedicures for children’s parties.

REAL FLEXIBILITY: Katherine Burr says she can carry out treatments at your office, at your home or even at her home
